TIC and Orange Launch "TIC Mobile"

TIC The Internet Company AG and Orange Communications SA have concluded a partnership agreement. Within the scope of this close partnership, TIC will offer new mobile telephony and data solutions for business customers from one source in addition to its previous IT and communications solutions.

At Orbit-iEX, TIC will launch its comprehensive telephony and mobile data solutions under the name "TIC Mobile." The new and attractive bundles of services contain Mobile Mail with Hosted Exchange, Virtual Office and SmartPhones with telephony products.

"With our new mobile solutions in the telephony and data communication area, business customers can work with state-of-the-art tools," says Franz Grüter, President of the Board of Directors and CEO of TIC The Internet Company AG. "TIC Mobile ideally supplements our existing product portfolio with Hosted Exchange and Virtual Office," Grüter continues.

"With TIC, Orange has acquired a partner that is firmly anchored in the Swiss small to medium enterprise market and that has its own innovative and trend-setting IT and communications solutions," says Markus Naef, Director Business Marketing of Orange Communications SA. "This cooperation with TIC will enable us to continue to grow in the small to medium enterprise market," Naef explains.

Thanks to increases in efficiency, small to medium enterprises are gaining real competitive advantages with TIC Mobile, Hosted Exchange and Virtual Office. As a triple-play provider, TIC offers comprehensive data communication, fixed-line telephony and mobile communication. With the combined advantages of TIC Mobile and Hosted Exchange, the possibilities of mobile communication are endless: mobile telephony, mobile Internet access, location-independent editing of personal organisation data such as email, calendar, tasks, etc. Everything will be possible with the new TIC Mobile offers – at attractive price plans for small to medium enterprises.
